PHC Leadership has demonstrated generous support for simulation within the organization but a bottleneck has been the availability of trained clinicians for facilitation of simulations.

This crash course is intended for both newcomers to simulation and those already acquainted with debriefing simulation and real-life scenarios.

The session will commence with a brief didactic segment presenting a debriefing framework alongside valuable insights, followed by substantial hands-on practice and/or observation of others in action.

Note:

- In-person attendance is preferred but we will offer the course virtually via Zoom for those unable to attend personally.
- You may pre-order dinner for $25 (sandwich meal). Use the registration link above to purchase your meal, and send an e-transfer to mmenon3@providencehealth.bc.ca for payment.
- This course can be claimed for Physician reimbursement ($170/hr).
